Tutoring Experience

With over 13 years of teaching experience, I have taught Maths to students across a wide range of curriculums, from IB Maths to A-Level and IGCSE. My international teaching experience includes working with students from more than 30 countries, helping them achieve top scores and prepare for competitive exams.

In addition to regular coursework, I specialise in exam preparation, focusing on past paper analysis and effective revision strategies. My goal is always to help students build confidence and solid foundations in Mathematics, enabling them to excel not just in exams but in any future academic challenges they face.
