Tutoring Experience

Over the past five years, I've worked with students across Hong Kong, Singapore, and the UK, preparing them for their IB, A-Level, and IGCSE exams. My focus on developing a deep understanding of physics concepts has enabled my students to excel in both theory and practical exams.

I've also taught AP Physics to students preparing for college-level courses. Through personalized guidance and clear explanations, I've helped students grasp challenging topics, ultimately achieving high scores in their exams.
